1. Herewith is the file on [REDACTED] which I mentioned to you on the telephone. She has been an applicant since 17 August 1951 and, according to the file, has been pretty thoroughly shopped in the likely places. (See [REDACTED] memorandum of 19 October). 25X1A

2. You can note in my comments of 11 September that she has pretty good qualifications but would not fit too well in my office. After an hour's interview, I am confirmed in my own mind in this conclusion. She is, I believe, of above average intelligence and with fairly broad experience, primarily in the legal field. She has an excellent memory recounting legal experiences of over twenty years ago in full detail. She might be a little slow, but I should think correspondingly thorough. She has a pleasant if somewhat determined personality and not too much humor. She definitely would prefer an overseas assignment and points out correctly that while she is 54, she has kept herself in good trim. She has been as high as $8,877 in Civil Service but her last position was at $6,235.

3. I feel it is quite possible she would make an excellent administrative officer somewhere around the GS-11 or 12 level, although she would obviously need some special training to qualify.
